ALPINE is licensed as a railroad operator

► ALPINE Bau GmbH received official license from the Ministry of Transport, Innovation and Technology for freight transports today

SALZBURG/VIENNA The Austrian ALPINE Construction Company increasingly relies on rail transport. The company has executed railway construction projects in Austria and abroad for years. Today ALPINE Bau GmbH received the safety certificate from the Ministry of Infrastructure (BMVIT) for rail operations on the Austrian Federal Railway (ÖBB) lines. As a licensed railway company, ALPINE is now permitted to convey and offer freight transports on the ÖBB's entire rail network.

Rail transports for environmentally-friendly construction traffic

As a railway company, ALPINE is now permitted to convey material by rail in an environmentally-friendly and cost-effective way, resulting in even more efficient construction site logistics. ALPINE intends to offer third-party freight transports on the free market as well.

ALPINE is successful in railroad construction on an international scale

The ALPINE construction company has successfully executed large-scale railroad construction projects in Austria and abroad. ALPINE is involved in the construction of the central train stations in Vienna and Salzburg as well as the recently completed Unterinntal railway project. ALPINE has earned a reputation abroad for projects such as the Gotthard Base Tunnel in Switzerland, railway projects for Deutsche Bahn and subway projects in India, Singapore and London.

The ALPINE Construction Company is a global player

The Austrian ALPINE Construction Company is a member of the FCC Group and has built roads, motorways, power plants, stadiums, railways and subways, bridges, residential, commercial and industrial buildings around the world. Together with its subsidiary, ALPINE-ENERGIE, it promotes the construction and development of sustainable, alternative energies and energy networks. Approximately half of the construction output of over 3 billion euros is generated in Austria's domestic market.
